

Draft Influencers Letter

Re: Swing State Steal Board Game – The Conservative Vaccine for Wokism

Dear _____:

As a prominent conservative, we would like to introduce you to Swing State Steal, a board game developed by George Breen, an Emmy Award winning software engineer and President of Rabbit Hill Games, LLC.

Swing State Steal is an exceedingly clever game that parodies the tumultuous 2020 presidential election with just the right amount of political satire. Those who have played it can attest to its appeal to conservatives and how it appalls liberals because it vividly portrays the Democrats' electoral shenanigans in the key swing states like those in our home state of Pennsylvania.

Designed for 2 to 6 players, Swing State Steal pits the Incumbent against his Swing State Challengers in a unique format played in 4 Rounds. In the first three (3) Rounds the Incumbent and the Swing States travel the board collecting votes and taking votes from each other. Along the way, there are many opportunities for the Swing States to cheat votes from the Incumbent, who gets a chance to recapture those stolen votes in the final 4th Round.

The first three Rounds are played on concentric tracts on the board with Round 1 representing “The Campaign”, Round 2 – “Election Day” and Round 3 – “The Steal”. Round 4 is aptly named “The Challenge” and, unlike the first three rounds, is played as a card game only using the Incumbent’s pawn.

Round 1 (The Campaign) covers the Campaign until Election Day and is used by the players to acquire votes through mostly legitimate means;

Round 2 (Election Day) begins when the polls open and ends when they close;

Round 3 (The Steal) begins after the polls close and the counting begins. Much of the Challengers’ vote stealing takes place in this round; and Round 4 (The Challenge) begins after Election Day and ends on January 6 when the ballots are counted by Congress and the election results are certified.

At the end of the game the votes accumulated by the Incumbent and each of the Challengers are counted. If the Incumbent has more votes than a Challenger, he wins that state. To win the election, however, the Incumbent must have more votes than a majority of the Challengers.

During the first three Rounds votes are given up or acquired by the Incumbent and the Challengers by playing News Cards they pick up by landing on a News Card space. The News Cards depict news events in a satirical matter. An example of a News Card:

BLM RIOTS IN CHICAGO

Whites riot for black justice. In a show of solidarity, the black mayor, black police commissioner, black city council and black D.A. all agree whites still systemically oppress them.

[The Incumbent loses a vote because “You say there are good people on both sides of the issues. Press reports you love evil”, whereas the Challenger gains a vote because “You are celebrating that the murder rate went down due to the distraction”]

Challengers may acquire Cheat Cards they can use to steal votes from the Incumbent during all four Rounds. An example of a Cheat Card:

VOTE HARVESTING FRAUD

Mail-in scheme. Mail-in votes are collected for a group, like a housing project or nursing home, by one person who fraudulently, but generously, fills them in for one candidate.

Some Cheat Cards are designated as Wild Cards that can be played by the Challengers in the 4th Round to defeat any attempt by the Incumbent to recapture stolen votes. An example of a Wild Card:

RACE CARD

The best defense is to be strongly offensive

The Incumbent recaptures stolen votes in Round 4 by playing Evidence Cards such as this one:

SWORN AFFIDAVITS

Hundreds of individuals have provided stories of polling location fraud under oath.

Maybe it's just a form of mass hypnosis like that “Twilight Zone” episode.

Among the Evidence Cards is a TRUMP CARD that- when played by the Incumbent- forces all Challengers who lack a Black Wild Card to give up votes to the Incumbent in the final Round.

We hope you will endorse Swing State Steal as a way for conservatives to send the right message to liberals while having a bit of fun at their expense. We have enclosed a complementary game so you can see for yourself and recommend it to other like-minded conservatives.

Feel free to share your thoughts with us or purchase a game at www.rabbithillgames.com. (Opening on June 1, 2021)

Sincerely,

George Breen

President

Rabbit Hill Games, LLC.

Geoffrey L. Beauchamp

Vice President

Rabbit Hill Games, LLC.

